Ingenious Smugglers.

A new use for cattle has apparently been found in Prussia, where a band of smugglers employed a cow in their attempts to avoid the tax on lace. A strong ten-months-old cow was wrapped round with a quantity of lace valued at $1000. Over this was fitted a false skin, so ingeniously constructed as to defy detection. They passed the cow quite easily at the Custom Office, the men there admiring her size and beauty, some of the excise officers even offering her bread. The owners of the cow were kept in suspense, while the cow quietly strolled on, quite unconscious of the numerous whacks and pokes she received from the smugglers, who were anxious to hasten her gait. However, all things have an end, and the cow was at length got out of the dangerous vicinity of the excisemen, much to the relief of her owners.

A Fool's Victim.

Mrs. Lina Swaffield of Beverly, Mass., who has recently been taken to Florida by her husband, who hopes that change of scene and climate will restore her to sanity, is the victim of a practical joke. A few weeks ago her husband joined a hunting party. On the way home one of the party hurried in advance and told Mrs. Swaffield that her husband had been shot and killed. She fainted, remained unconscious for several hours, and when she regained consciousness was insane.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in expermenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption seems at first only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived but insist on getting Dr. King's New Discovery which is guaranteed to give relief in all Throat, Lung and Chest affections. Trial bottles free at Wegner's Drug Store. 6

A Swiss physicist, Prof. Simmler, maintains that diamonds have been formed by the taking up of soluble carbon by liquid carbonic acid, and its subsequent deposition in a crystalline form on the evaporation of the acid. This could only take place in rock cavities strongly compressing the carbonic acid, which would quickly disappear on release from the pressure.

Saved His Life.

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years afflicted with Phthisic, also Diabetes; the pains were almost unendurable and would almost throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from the first bottle and after taking six bottles was entirely cured, and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds. Says he positively believes he would have died, had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Ed. Wegner. 6

A Reminiscence of the Battle of New Orleans.

My family was at the Bore plantation when, in the afternoon of the 23d of December, 1814, General Jackson was informed that the British had landed in Louisiana, and that a portion of their troops had been seen on the Villere plantation below the city. I was then at the College of Orleans, corner of St. Claude and Bayou Road alias Hospital Street, when, at 3 o'clock P. M., a great commotion was observed within its learned precincts. All studies were suspended; the class rooms shut up; the pupils hurrying to and fro in evident alarm; parents pouring in and taking their children away. My cousin, Frederic Foucher, a son of Pierre Foucher, and myself were beginning to fear our being forgotten and being left to shift for ourselves, instead of being as well cared for as most of our companions—both our families being six miles above the city, and ignorant of the exciting news—when there came a messenger from Madame Poree, the sister of Pierre Foucher, and the aunt of Frederic, to tender us the shelter of her house at the corner of Dumaine and Royal streets, which is still in existence, with the same antiquated front painted yellow, and with the same balcony on which the two boys stood and saw Major Plauche's battalion of uniformed, equipped, and well-drilled militia pass under it. That corps was composed of the elite of the young men of the city—la jeunesse doree—and it seems to me that I see now as vividly as I saw then the handsome Edmond Foucher conspicious in the ranks of those who were thus marching rapidly to meet the enemy. Looking up to the balcony, he saluted his old aunt with a cheerful smile and a wave of the hand that seemed intended to comfort her and dispel her alarms.

At seven o,clock the battle began, and the roar of artillery, with the discharges of musketry, was almost as distinctly heard as if in our immediate neighborhood. There was not the slightest noise in the apparently dead city. It held its breath in awful suspense. There was not a human being to be seen moving in the streets. We, the two boys and the ladies of the household, petrified into absolute silence by the apprehensions of the moment, stood on the balcony until half past nine, when the firing gradually ceased. But still we continued to remain on the same spot; for what was to happen? Were our defenders retreating, pursued by the enemy? These were hours of anxiety never to be forgotten. About eleven o'clock the oppressive silence of the city was broken by the furiously rapid gallop of a horseman shouting "Victory! Victory!" He turned from Chartres street into Dumaine, and from Dumaine into Royal, still shouting "Victory!" The voice had become hoarse, and yet no human voice that I ever afterward heard was fraught with more sweet music. That night we went to bed with thankful hearts. The two boys slept soundly, as boys sleep, with that blissful unconcern that appertains to their age. But I doubt if our kind hostess and her daughters closed their eyes, for they had husbands, brothers, sons on the battle-field, and they did not know at what cost to them the victory had been achieved.

In the morning of the preceding day the famous battle of the 8th was fought on the plains of Chalmette, four miles above the city. In a bee-line the distance must have been very short between the field of action and the Bore plantation, six miles above New Orleans by the windings of the river, for the furious cannonading and discharges of musketry were prodigiously distinct. The ladies of the family, pale with the natural emotions of fear produced by the dangers of the situation, were grouped on the broad gallery in front of the house. No man was visible, for the only one who had remained at home (on account of his age) had, when the battle began, ascended with slow but firm steps a flight of stairs which led to the top of the portico. At every volley of artillery or musketry I flung myself on the floor, exclaiming, "Ten Englishmen killed!" "Twenty Englishmen flat on the ground!" and so on. I continued rejoicing in the fancied destruction of our invaders, notwithstanding the remonstrances of my poor mother, in whose alarm I very little participated. The battle had not yet ended when my grandfather Bore came down from his post observation with the same measured step and the same self-possession with which he had ascended, and said to his daughters, who anxiously interrogated his looks, "Dismiss your fears; the Americans are victorious."

"But, father how do you know it?" inquired my mother.

"You forget, my dear child, replied M. de Bore, with a calm smile, "that I have some military experience. My practiced ear has not been deceived I am sure. The American guns have silenced the English guns. The enemy is defeated.

These words had hardly been spoken when, in the long avenue of pecan trees that led to the river, there appeared a troop of about a hundred men rushing toward the house. "The English! here come the English!" was the simultaneous cry of the women. M. de Bore stretched himself up to his full height, shaded his eyes with his hand, and after having looked steadily at the advancing crowd, said contemptuously, "These men the English! bah!"

They came rapidly to the piazza, about six feet high, on which we stood, and along which ran a wooden balustrade. M. de Bore did not understand one word of the language spoken by these unexpected visitors, whose ragamuffin appearance was no recommendation. But if they were bandits, it was comfortable to see they were all unarmed.

"Who are they, and what do they want?" inquired M. de Bore, surveying them with evidently no friendly eye. He was informed by one of his family that they were fugitives who reported that the Americans had been completely routed, and that they themselves were a portion of the defeated, and that they begged for food. The blood rushed to the cheeks of the old soldier, his eyes flashed, and he shouted in French to the men: "You lie! The Americans are victorious. You have run away; you are cowards. Never shall it be said that I gave a hospitable welcome to dastardly fugitives from the battle-field. Hence, all of you or I will call my negroes to drive you away." His words were not comprehended, but his indignant wrath was visible, and his pantomime was expressive. One of the beggarly crew seemed to apprehend his meaning, for he took off his hat and pointed with his index finger to a hole which looked as though made by a ball. He no doubt intended to intimate that he had faced danger, and that he was not as cowardly as supposed. In making this exhibition he approached close to the piazza and held his hat aloft. The old gentleman retreated a few steps; then rushing back to the balustrade of the piazza, on which he leaned forward, and looking down on the suppliant below, shouted: "In thy hat! in thy hat!"—striking his breast violently—there is where the ball should have been received, not through thy hat, when probably thy back was turned to the enemy. No! no food for cowards. There is food in the British camp go and get it."

He was superb at that moment, and turning his back on the pitiful-looking postulants, he kept up pacing the piazza like a chafed lion in a cage. My mother followed him a few feet behind, as he walked to and fro with a hurried step, and thus expostulated all the while:

"Father, they look so miserable."

"No! no food for cowards. I have said it."

"They seem to be so jaded and hungry."

"No! I say no?"

"Father, they are so wet and shivering with cold."

"No! no food for fugitives from the field of honor."

"But, father," continued my mother, in a piteous tone, "they may not have fled, after all. Perhaps they only retreated."

Grandfather, wheeling around, with a smile on his lips, and the usual expression of benevolence on his face, said: "Daughter I am inflexible. No food shall I give to those wretches. But I am going away and in my absence you may deal as you please with these heroes of retreat" (avec ces heros de la retraite). True to his word, he disappeared, and was not seen for the remainder of the day.

Meanwhile the little boy, who has grown up to be the octogenarian who writes these lines, had a grand time of it, for big fires were lighted over the vast court-yard, calves and sheep were killed and roasted, huge pots of hominy and of rice were prepared; and he keenly enjoyed the barbecue, if he may be permitted to use this well-known modern expression, that was given to those men, who were a detachment of Kentuckians that had fled from Colonel Thoruton's attack upon General Morgan's command on the right bank of the river, as related in history.—CHARLES GAYARRE, in Harper's Magazine for March.

CARDINAL JACOBINI is dead.

THE California Veterans Home bill has passed the Senate.

MR. DAMPF writes us: "What has become of the Santa Rosa and Benicia Railroad?" Dampf we know.

PRINCE BISMARCK still sways the destinies of the German Empire. The recent elections have so decided.

LAST Sunday, in Sacramento, Louis Verhegen fatally stabbed a woman named Lillie Forrest, after which he cheated the gallows by suiciding with strychnine.

WONDER if that Winchester with its eight remaining cartridges, which is a part and parcel of Peter Olsen the Napa murderer, is standing our brave officers off.

IT is now said that the reason the Petaluma stocking factory did not remove to Santa Rosa was because the people of that city would take no stockin' it.

EDWARD KUEHN of Omaha before he died made a will and directed the executors of his estate to cremate his body and place his ashes in an urn on the bar of a saloon in that city.

THE first woman ever hanged in the State of New York was executed in Herkimer last Monday. Her crime was the killing of a brutal husband, who had starved and beat her for twenty years, and who was probably better out of the world than in it, but she attempted to conceal her crime, and as usual in such cases, paid the penalty with her life.

THERE comes a cock-and-bull story from Santa Rosa to the effect that Pete, the Napa murderer, has been seen near the Petrified Forest, sixteen miles northeast of that city. One day Pete is located in Marin county, the next he is hiding in Napa county and in fact he is here, there and everywhere, and still nowhere. Verily, Pete is leading the officers on a wild goose chase.

As soon as Congress adjourns, says a dispatch from Washington, Senator Stanford will go to New York and Boston to consult with Francis A. Walker in regard to the plans for his university on the Palo Alta Farm. He expects to begin five of the Moorish buildings this Summer. Senator Stanford said that one of the more important things he was considering was the selection of a President. He wants a man of affairs as well as a scholar. After he has selected a President he intends to call the Trustees together to select a corps of Professors.

THE Department Encampment, Grand Army of the Republic, has selected Santa Rosa as their next annual meeting place. No better selection could have been made. Its people are enterprising and progressive and are preparing for the boom that is bound to strike this section of the State ere long, of which this meeting of the Grand Army Encampment will be the forerunner. Let Sonoma county as a whole put her house in order for the grand event. It will bring thousand of strangers into our midst in search of homes. It is said the first impression is a lasting one. Therefore let us look out for number one.

THE Southern Pacific Company has sent us a copy of their climatic map, just issued. These maps are being distributed broadcast over the United States and Europe. They show at a glance the equability of the climate of California and will no doubt attract thousands of health, pleasure and home seekers to our State. In our opinion the Southern Pacific Company is doing more to-day toward populating California than all other interests combined, the cry of soulless corporation to the contrary notwithstanding.

LET US HAVE A BOOM, TOO.

On every hand we find that booms are being originated for different localities. For instance, at San Jose and at Livermore the people have already commenced the work of booming their districts by organizing Boards of Trade and subscribing largely toward advertising their counties.

Our people stand idly by, and our Supervisors, who have been appealed to time and again, will do nothing to make our county known. Last year they refused in every way to aid an exhibit from Sonoma county in the Mechanics' Fair, and thus did not let intended settlers know of the great variety of resources and produce of our county. The Supervisors were appealed to in vain. Other counties subscribed liberally toward showing what they could produce. Sonoma was nowhere. Had it not been for the enterprise of a few individuals and the Pomona Grange, no exhibit whatever would have been made. As it was, the majority of people arriving in our State did not know that such a place as Sonoma county existed and no doubt are still ignorant of that fact to-day.

Taking it all in all, Sonoma Valley and the Glen Ellen district can compare more than favorably with any other locality within the borders of our county. But while Santa Rosa is passably well-known, Healdsburg and Petaluma held in high esteem and Cloverdale seems to be the garden spot of the gods, poor old neglected Sonoma is scarcely ever heard of abroad.

The wines in this portion of the county command a higher price than those from any other part of the State. We can produce more to the acre than any other section of California from persimmons to oranges. We defy any part of California to successfully compete with us. We have produced the first olive oil ever made in Sonoma county, that from Col. Hooper's place. We have sold more widely diversified cuttings of vines than any other county in the State, sending our varieties to Texas, Georgia, North Carolina, New Mexico, Arizona, Washington Territory, Idaho and even to countries in the Old World. With regard to grain, we have never had a failure in our county. Our table grapes bring a higher price than those grown elsewhere, owing to their superior shipping qualities. Sonoma's fruits for canning have no equal. Raisins we do not claim, for we have never tried them.

In view of all these facts, we are strongly—most strongly—of the opinion that our people should wake up and arouse themselves to the fact that every other part of the State is going ahead while we are lagging behind. The people of Sonoma Valley should adopt means to let visitors to our State know that Sonoma county does not consist simply of Santa Rosa, Petaluma, Healdsburg and Cloverdale, but that there are such localities as Sonoma and Glen Ellen within her boundaries. In order to do this we would suggest to the residents of both districts that they do not join in a general county exhibit at the coming Mechanics' Fair. Let them combine and have an exhibition of their own. If sufficient interest is taken in this matter Sonoma and Glen Ellen ought to be able to outrival the county exhibit of last year, for had it not been for the display made by the latter our county would not have carried off the first premium.

We will be glad to hear from any one who will aid us in inaugurating a movement of this kind, and in our next issue will give a list of articles desired for making a creditable display at the next Mechanics' Fair. We would urge upon all who are identified with the interests of this valley to assist in promoting its welfare. If we want a boom we have got to make it.

A WOMAN and her five children are reported to have perished, in the mountains fifty miles east of Fresno during the recent snow storm. They occupied a frail cabin and the snow fall being extraordinarily heavy, caved in the roof and they were crushed beneath its weight.

A. A. SARGENT will shortly furnish the Overland Monthly several articles upon topics of public and industrial interest. Senator Sargent is engaged to write exclusively for the Overland Monthly.

THE FORTHCOMING BENEFIT.

Great interest is being manifested by the leading citizens of town and valley in the matter of the forthcoming entertainment to be given for the benefit of our Plaza. It is calculated to raise $1000 to assist the City Trustees in the improvements now going on. The entertainment will be held under the auspices of the Clay Literary Society and a Committee of Citizens. The Literary Society will discuss the matter next Monday evening and no doubt will lend that aid and encouragement to the project which a generous public has heretofore accorded to that society on the occasion of its semi-annual entertainments. Every good citizen who has the welfare of Sonoma Valley at heart, ought to take an active and lively interest in this matter. If we desire to increase our population we must be up and doing. Let us put our town in proper shape to receive a share of the tide of emmigration that is pouring into our State with irresistible force. The boom will soon strike Sonoma county. Let us not neglect this opportunity. There is room in this valley for hundreds of small farmers, who can be induced to purchase land and settle here, but unless our town is made inviting to strangers, they will turn away in disgust without taking the trouble to inspect our lands and the many beautiful places which environ our city.

THE DETAILS.

Showing the Autobiography of a Successful Journalist.

[Life.]

One of the most entertaining bits of autobiography we have ever read is the following account of his professional life, with its dissappointments and rewards by a Texas editor:

Been asked to drink	11,352
Drank	11,361
Requested to retract	416
Didn't retract	416
Invited to parties and receptions	3,333
Threatened to be whipped	170
Been whipped	0
Whipped the other fellow	4
Didn't come to time	166
Been promised whisky, gin, etc., if he would go after them	5,610
Been after them	5,610
Been asked what's the news	300,000
Told	23
Didn't know	200,000
Lied about it	99,497
Been to church	2
Changed politics	32
Expect to change still	50
Gave to charity	$5 00
Gave for terrier dog	$25
Cash on hand	$1 00

We doubt if the editor of any one our New York dailies could compress so much entertaining reminiscence into so little space. We also question whether in the whole rank and file of New York newspaperdom there will be found a thousandth part of the frankness displayed by this Texan brother in his graphic portrayal of those personal characteristics which go to make up the successful journalist of to-day.

Dr. G. G. Green of Woodbury, New Jersey, proprietor of Boschee's German Syrup and Green's August Flower and Ague Conquerer, has sent us a very attractive "shut the door card" which now adorns our sanctum.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From Our Regular Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21, 1887.

The week's work in Congress can be readily epitomized. The Senate gave its consent to Capt. Eads' Ship Railway scheme across the isthmus of Panama, wrangled as it always does over the appropriations for Rivers and Harbors, and voted away millions by passing a number of bills for the increase of the Navy. The House of Representatives has devoted most of the time to the discussion of the money bills which run this Government, which invaribly provoke debate and which must be disposed of before the 4th of March, otherwise an extra session would be necessary.

Both the Senate and the House again passed the Anti-Polygamy bill, this time as it came amended from conference, and the measure is now ready for the President to make it a law by affixing his name.

There was an interesting debate over this question. Senator Vest said that, as a matter of course, the bill would become a law, but he could not vote for it. He was well aware what the public sentiment of the country was, but no amount of criticism would affect the performance of his duties as a legislator. In his judgment it violated a principle of the Constitution, as to the rights of property. He considered its provision as to the Perpetual Emigrating Fund Company, simple, naked, bold confiscation and nothing else. It took money subscribed by individuals and applied it to an object (public schools) not contemplated by the corporation. The same thing might be done in regard to any other religious corporation in this country. It was no answer to say that it applied only to the Mormon church.

The Senator said he recollected the time when, in this country, a storm of popular madness threatened to destroy the Roman Catholic Church, with all its rights of property, and when it is was preached from the pulpit and hustings that that church was opposed to a republican form of government, that it taught treason, that it should be abolished and its property confiscated to the treasury of the United States.

Another feature of the bill which he could not support was the test of oath imposed upon voters and persons elected to office. He knew something about test oaths. He had gone through an era of proscription on account of them.

Senator Edmunds denied that any principle of the Constitution in respect to rights of property were violated in this bill, and as to test oaths, he said they had been carefully incorporated into the Constitution of the United States. Every Senator had been obliged to take one. The President of the United States and every officer of the United States or of a State was compelled, and always had been, to take an oath which, in effect, was like that required in this bill.

Senator Hoar here inquired whether the bill, in prescribing an oath or qualificaiions for office, anywhere attacked a mere opinion separate from a criminal act. Mr. Edmunds replied that it did not in the slightest degree. The most astute and ingenious sophist could find in it no hint of such a thing. It had been carefully excluded. Senator Ingalls asserted that he had as much respect for the sincere opinion of a Mormon as that of an Episcopalian, Catholic Congregationalist, Methodist or Baptist. All religious belief that was honestly entertained was respectable although it might be erroneous, and condemned by one's judgement. "But," said he, "it is not the Mormon religion that is attacked in this bill, it is the practice of polygamy, which is one of the tenets of a certain proportion of that church."

Other Senators spoke in opposition to the bill, among them being Senators Call of Florida, and Butler of South Carolina. Both of them disclaimed all toleration of polygamy, but they could not support the proposed means of getting rid of it.

The Washington social season is about over now, and the gay world is ready for Lent. Mrs. Cleveland held her last public reception on Saturday afternoon and the crowd was the largest she has ever had. It began to gather two hours before the doors were thrown open, and 'ere long it extended from the White House entrance to the Avenue gate and down the sidewalk for half a square, four or five abreast. To about every fifty women there was one man, and he invariably looked as though he felt out of place.

As a toilet luxury, Ayer's Hair Vigor cannot be equaled. It is highly perfumed, and keeps the scalp clean and cool.

The Occidental Hotel is fast becoming a popular resort. †

The bond of J. B. Small, City Recorder, was presented, approved and filed.

The Marshal was granted a salary of fifteen dollars per month, beginning March 2d. The Board reserves the privilege of withdrawing this salary, should circumstances require.

The following bills were presented and ordered paid: Robert Poppe, salary and service, $15; U. P. Vallejo, services, $16 50; H. H. Granice, printing, $3 50; Mrs. J. A. Poppe, supplies, $2 30; F. Brietenbach, rent of jail, $2 50; W. Parish, labor, $17; J. Parish, labor, $13; W. T. Bordwell, labor, $30 50; Julius Fechetti, blacksmithing, 75c; W. Green, lumber, $31 74; J. M. Cheny, labor, $25; H. W. Matthews, labor, $4; J. B. Small, labor, $24 75; Total, $186 54.

The Board then adjourned.

The Weather and Crops.

The weather the past week has been about equally divided between rain and sunshine. Sunday, Monday and Tuesday were warm and pleasant. On Wednesday morning, however, it commenced to rain and continued until Thursday night. At the hour of going to press (Friday, 4 P. M.) there are indications of more rain. In consequence of the late rains the season promises to be an exceptionally prosperous one for California. Here in Sonoma county crops of every description were never more promising, and in consequence everybody, if we except a few old chronics, is cheerful and bouyant.

An Improved Farm Gate.

Wm. Jones of this place has invented a farm gate that for usefulness, simplicity and cheapness cannot be beaten. This gate will not cost more than $10 or $12 to build and is so constructed that it can easily be opened by the drivers of teams both going in and passing out, without leaving their seats. Patents have been issued time and again for gates of similar design, but Mr. Jones' invention, a model of which we have been permitted to see, appears to be the boss.

Prefers Sonoma to Los Angeles.

D. W. Folger has disposed of his place on the Hooper road, between Sonoma and Glen Ellen, to a Mr. Lang, the consideration being $9,400. The purchaser having recently disposed of his property interests in Los Angeles, paid Sonoma Valley a visit and was so favorably impressed with our climate, scenery, resources, etc., that he very sensibly determined to make his home here.

Dismissed.

Charles Spears, a tramp, who claims to hail from Merced, was lodged in jail at Santa Rosa by Constable Sparks, on Friday of last week, charged with a felony in breaking into the Watmaugh schoolhouse on the Petaluma road. When brought before the Superior Court Wednesday, he was discharged from custody, the evidence against him being deemed insufficient to convict.

Wine Sale.

A number of Eastern wine merchants have been investigating our wine cellars the past two weeks. As a result Mr. Henry Winkle has disposed of 25,000 or 30 000 gallons of his superb wine to a New York firm at a very fair figure, and negotiations are pending for the purchase of other cellars.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Brindley of the Madrone Vineyards are spending a few days in the city.

J. P. Weems has returned from Stein's Pass, New Mexico, after an absence of a couple of months.

Messrs. L. A. Jordan and A. W. Atherton, principals of the Petaluma Commercial College, were in Sonoma Wednesday and favored us with a call.

R. W. Crothers, storekeeper of the United States Bonded Warehouse at this place and Santa Rosa has moved from the latter place with his family and will in future reside here.

FINE WINES IN CALIFORNIA.

A Prominent Vineyardist on the Production of Sauterne and Bordeaux.

[S. F. Evening Post.]

Among the guests at the Grand Hotel is Captain H. W. McIntyre of Rutherford, one of the best known vineyardists in the State and President of the Grapegrowers' and Winemakers' Association. He is here supervising the preparations being made for the coming annual convention of all the vineyardists in the State. During a conversation on the prospects of the industry, he said: "The most encouraging thing in the whole State is the movement among our most energetic winegrowers to do away altogether with the Mission grape and where it is planted to graft valuable foreign varieties on the stocks. Good wine may now be had at a low price. New Mission wine will not bring more than ten or twelve cents a gallon, and ordinary Zinfandel is for sale at from fifteen to twenty-five cents. These low prices are compelling winemakers to turn their attention to making fine wines. Only recently one of the most active vineyardists was was offered $1 per gallon for 1000 gallons of new Sauterne wine by William T. Coleman & Co. That good rate shows very plainly that the time has come for California to attempt something better than ordinary claret and white wine. Experience alone can produce a first-class product, and we have been getting that experience for two decades or more. All over the State nurserymen report a growing inquiry for grafts of the Bordeaux and Sauterne grapes. The Bordeaux varieties are Carbinet Franc, Cabernet, Sauvignon, Marot and Verdot. The Sauternes are made from the Semillion, Sauvignon Blanc and Muscadelle du Bordelais, the greater proportion being the first varieties mentioned."

To my mind the demand for these grapes is a most auspicious augury for the State. I hope that something will be done at the coming convention to stimulate others to attempt to produce fine wines; and, above all, that representatives from every section can report that the planting of Mission vines has entirely ceased.

COUNTY ITEMS.

S. H. Mauzy, the Petaluma boot and shoe dealer, has failed.

Chicken thieves are levying tribute on Santa Rosa hen roosts.

An Episcopal Church building will be erected in Healdsburg this Spring.

The Postoffice at Penn's Grove was entered by thieves one night last week and $15 in coin stolen.

Burglars are plentiful in Petaluma. They are bold and markedly successful in their operations.

The second trial of John S. Van Doren will take place in the Superior Court at Santa Rosa next Tuesday.

The trial of Frank Woods, accused of the murder of Lee Paton, on Dry Creek, some months ago, will be commenced in the Superior Court at Santa Rosa next Tuesday. T. J. Geary is counsel for the defense.

Well, I schawn! Fritz Schawn, a farmer residing in Los Guilucos valley, says the Santa Rosa "Democrat," while clipping grape vines last Saturday afternoon, cut off the index finger of his left hand. The instrument used being very sharp the wound was evenly and smoothly made.

Tramps have been utilizing the Pleasant Hill Church, near Sebastopool as a place to cook purloined bipeds of the feathered tribe. Upon opening the church last Sunday morning feathers and chicken bones were found lying around in a very promiscuous manner. The citizens of that locality are said to be up in arms and have vowed eternal vengeance on the tramp species for this last indignity.—Petaluma Imprint.

As illustrating the resources of the interior portions of Sonoma county, we note the shipment of 500,000 feet of dressed redwood lumber by the Big Bottom Mill Company to a purchaser in Los Angeles. It is going forward by rail through this city at the rate of from ten to fifteen cars daily to Los Angeles, Oakland, Sacramento and other places. Dry lumber is scarce and dear.—Democrat.

Petaluma Pickings.

[Argus.]

A great many walnut trees are being planted in and around Petaluma. We notice that Thomas Mooney is planting these as street trees around his residence, corner of B and Fifth streets.

The S. F. & N. P. R. R. Co., having obtained permission to put in the draw-bridge, for the new road below Petaluma, the work will now be rushed till the connection is made between here and the overland route. Our Santa Rosa friends will "thusly" be allowed to ship wine by the carload to the East.

The residence of John Merritt was entered last Tuesday night, but the robber was scared away by a young lady who was stopping there at the time. A ladder was used to get into the upper story. The ladder was carried off, leaving holes in the soft ground where it stood.

Pasteurizing of Wines.

Prof. Hilgard of the State University has issued the following in regard to pasteurizing of wines:

The essential point to Pasturizing is to heat wine to the temperature of 150 deg., or thereabouts, out of contact with air. This heating should be done as quickly as possible, and after the proper temperature has been reached it is best, other things being equal, to cool the wine as quickly as possible.

Several objects are accomplished by this heating. The one most generally aimed at is to kill the germs of all kinds of fermentation that may exist in the wine, in order that it may be safe from farther changes under their influence. Another is to advance the wine toward maturity. Also, to forestall any farther disposition of sediment, by the coagulation of the albuminous matters it still contains, and which endanger its soundness.

The general plan in the construction of Pasteurizers is usually the same as that of the various kinds of still condensers; only, in this case the water around the worm is hot, and the cool wine in passing through is heated to the proper point by allowing it move with greater or less rapidity, in a solid column, so that a thermometer inserted in the exit end will show steadily the desired temperature. Beyond the thermometer the wine passes into a cooler, from which it is delivered into the (well-cleaned) storage or shipping packages. In many cases it is delivered into these directly from the Pasteurizer, and allowed to cool in the tightly bunged casks.

Wines of sufficient age, that have ceased to deposit sediment and are bottle-ripe, may be pastuerized in the bottles themselves, in a water-bath having the proper temperature. This is the preferred practice in the case of high-class wines.

The temperature must be carefully guarded, since if it either rises too high, or continues too long even at its proper point, the wine may acquire a "cooked" taste, and may lose its natural boquet. Immediately after the operation the wine is somewhat flat, but in the course of a few weeks not only fully recovers its zest, but is found very much advanced toward maturity.

One of the most serious sources of complaint against California wines in the East is that they "will not keep," the cause being very generally the fact that, being too young to be bottled like imported wines of greater age, they undergo unsound fermentation in the bottles, as they still contain germ food, and possibly germs of all kinds. All this is done away with in pasteurizing, without the need of salicylic acid and without injury to the wine.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER will make them as free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of AUGUST FLOWER will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents, Try it. 1

Nitrate of Mercury for Burglars.

Dr. Edwin F. Rush, whose house in Chicago has been despoiled by burglars eight times the past year, recently conceived a plan to play havoc with the marauders, claiming that the police have afforded him no protection. He has a fine home at Warren and California avenues. Recently the doctor placed tubes, containing fulminate of mercury, with nitrate of mercury, at the windows. The poison, it was claimed, coming in contact with the skin of a human being, would cause blood poisoning. The raising of the windows was expected to explode the tubes and scatter the poison into the faces of the intruders. The facts came to the attention of the Fire Marshal, and he ordered the doctor to remove his deadly tubes. The marshal explained that he would not allow the lives of his men to be imperiled in order that a house might be protected from burglars and sneak thieves.

Crown Jewels of France.

Since France has been under Republican rule, the disposition of State treasures has been a subject of frequent discussion in her legislative halls. At one time the money obtained for the crown jewels was to be applied to the founding of trade schools, and the collection was exhibited once in the Tuileries in order to help the metal workers in setting up a special school for their apprentices. Now it is said that the products of the sale are to be turned into the Treasury. The whole collection is not to be sold. Three objects are to go to the melting pot, viz: the Imperial crown, the glaive of Louis XVIII, and the glaive of the Dauphin. Several of the stones will be handed over to the Mineralogical Museum and the School of Mines, to be used henceforth as specimens. A few objects will be preserved as curiosities, viz: the military sword, the reliquary brooch, the Regent diamond, the Mazarin diamond, the watch presented by the Dey of Algiers, the large ruby, the dragon pearl, and the badge of the Little Elephant of Denmark. The remaining treasures will be treated as if they were seized for debt, and will be sold by action in the Hotel Drouot.

"Silver pitchers for presentation to bridal couples can be had of us as low as $2 and they will wear for three months," advertises a Chicago firm. "The car is full of alumni," whispered Miss Beekonstreet to her friend from the West, as they journeyed Cambridgeward in the horse car. "Yes," said the Chicago girl, "and how it chokes one up, don't it? I wonder they do not open the ventilators."—Boston Bulletin.

"No, George," she said, "I cannot marry you. I shall always esteem you as a friend, but I cannot be your wife." George hesitated. "Clare," he said brokenly, "will you grant me one favor before I go away forever?" "Yes, George," she replied kindly. "What is it?" "Please put your refusal down on paper. I'll feel safer."

WHAT KILLS AMERICANS.

Fast Living—Reckless Eating—Hard Drinking—Poor Sleeping—Social Jealousy—Political Ambition—Violent Passions The Race for Money.

The alarming disease of this country is nervous debility and prostration. It goes under many names but it is essentially the same complaint. Hospitals and private institutions for nervous patients are crowded. The average of life in the United States is decreasing every year. Sudden deaths from nervous collapse among our business, professional and public men are so frequent as scarcely to excite remark. The majority of suicides, committed without apparent reason, or under so-called "depression of spirits," are really prompted by nervous prostration, which is a fruitful source of insanity and crime with all their grief and horror.

These facts are startling. They threaten the very life of the nation. They assail the springs of its power and prosperity. They wreck manhood's strength and woman's usefulness and beauty.

Every one should know the causes. What are they? The answer is easy and terribly plain: Our vicious personal habits; our careless and lawless eating and drinking; the intense mental and physical strain arising from our mad race after money, position and influence; the fears and struggles of poverty; the use of narcotics and stimulants; our fashion of turning day into night and night into day; and, briefly, our desperate willingness to pay any price for an hour's pleasure or success. So we burn life's candle at both ends and fill the lunatic asylums and the graveyards.

The disease from which we suffer and die is, in plain English, Nervous Dyspepsia, as it is seated in the Nerves and in the organs of Digestion, Assimilation and Nutrition. Healthy digestion being impeded or destroyed, the whole body, nerves included, is literally starved; even when there is no emaciation to tell the sad story.

Nervous prostration sends out its warnings:—headache in the morning; a persistent dull heaviness or aching at the base of the brain; wakefulness; loss of appetite and disgust with food; loss of mental energy and interest in ordinary duties and business; restlessness and anxiety without any assignable reason; eructations; bad breath; foul mucous on the teeth; occasional giddiness; palpitation of the heart; sallowness of the skin; coated tongue and gradual failure of strength and ambition.

The remedy is a total abandonment of the habits and customs which cause the disease in each individual case, and the use of Shaker Extract of Roots (Seigel's Syrup) to cure the mischief already done. This great remedy, prepared by the Shaker Community of Mt. Lebanon, N. Y., is especially adapted to eradicate Nervous Dyspepsia. To do this it acts directly and gently but powerfully upon the disordered stomach, liver and kidneys, restoring their tone and vigor, promoting the secretion of bile, expelling waste matters from the system, and purifying the blood.

Upon the nervous system Shaker Extract (Seigel's Syrup) acts as a safe and wholesome anodyne without the slightest narcotic effect, and then leaves the nerves to regain their natural tone and strength through its wonderful influence upon the function of nutrition.

It is safe to say more nervous dyspeptics have been restored by it from the depths of misery to a fresh enjoyment of life and labor than by any or all other forms of treatment combined.

S.S.S.

About twenty years ago I discovered a little sore on my cheek, and the doctors pronounced it cancer. I have tried a number of physicians, but without receiving any permanent benefit. Among the number were one or two specialists. The medicine they applied was like fire to the sore, causing intense pain. I saw a statement in the papers telling what S. S. S. had done for others similarly afflicted. I procured some at once. Before I had used the second bottle the neighbors could notice that my cancer was healing up. My general health had been bad for two or three years—I had a hacking cough and spit blood continually. I had a severe pain in my breast. After taking six bottles of S. S. S. my cough left me and I grew stouter than I had been for several years. My cancer has healed over all but a little spot about the size of a half dime, and it is rapidly disappearing. I would advise every one with cancer to give S. S. S. a fair trial.

AGENTS WANTED for the MISSOURI STEAM Washer

Active, honest persons all over the country, with or without cash. JOHN C. EVANS, Stoutland, Mo., writes: "I stand on and affirm that a Washer saves more hard labor and money in a large family than any Reaper and Mower that ever was put on a farm with less than 160 acres in cultivation. If you will get up any instrument that will take as much labor off men as this Washer takes off the women, and save as much money as it does and cost no more, I could sell one at every house. If they had to take the feathers from under their wife and babies to pay for it." JOHN E. LOCK, JR., Jeweler, Mexia, Ia., writes: "I'm not what I think of the Washer I bought last summer. Is it is the best machine ever invented by man. We have cleaned 25 dozen on Monday as an any other day. $2. If you run short, you can not buy ours for $1000."

I will ship a sample to those desiring an agency on a week's trial on liberal terms. A thousand per cent the best washer in the world for saving labor, clothes and soap. Pays capable agents big money. Write for particulars.
